

Ending is beautiful.....

I can remember the day, when I was elected as the IYCS Asian coordinator by YCS National movements of Asia, during 10th Asian Session and council in Sri Lanka 2006 of the age of 22. I was assured that I am going to take a big responsibility which is bigger than my age, but I was inspired by the motivation of serving IYCS Asia regional level which was the dream of mine. I heard a call from some one, someone very special who was calling me to take the challenging mission to complete.

However, at the end of the mandate I am feeling so happy, I am very much bubbling with my satisfaction of completing a mission. All the challenges I had gone through now those are blessings to me, I am having wonderful realization that I have grown a lot in terms of the way of thinking, way of doing work, maintaining relation with people, understanding the reality and the culture of countries, races and ethnic groups.

Acknowledgements

I would like to give thanks to my creator for appointing me and calling me for such wonderful work, I do believe without his approval no one can not come to this position.

To YCS Bangladesh

My heart is now thankful and exited to proceed on to the next step of the life which is calling me to finish my uncompleted tasks of my life. Keep me in your prayers i am still looking for a good University to study to complete my graduation on BSW or Sociology. Hope after my graduation i will be able to contribute a lot for our world in terms of Peace building through working for the poor and marginalized people those who need supporters for their dignity, justice and rights. At the ending of the letter i would like to share my short prayers with you which i always say to God. "God i am praying to you to not to safe me from the difficult situation which i am passing through, i am begging to you fpr give me strength and the your holy spirit to overcome all the difficulties which i am facing, you are always good and i am blessed by your love.

Wishing all the best to our movement and would like to appreciate all the YCS Students in the grassroots level for their commitment and care for the movement which is moving our movement to it's destination.

Thanks
